Another link in 'River Walk Park' chain

Section of parkway -- including public restrooms -- goes up next to CalSTRS tower

City of West Sacramento officials join the state in celebrating the completion of a major extension of River Walk Park last Wednesday. The new stretch of parkway extends, from F Street north to the I Street Bridge.

The extension of River Walk includes walking paths, the E Street Plaza, restrooms and the installation of levee improvements that meet 200 year flood protection standards.

State poised to release $23 million for West Sac riverfront work

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger

City leaders let out a sigh of relief last month. State money promised for major "infrastructure" work in West Sacramento's "Bridges" area was finally close to release.

"We got a $23 million grant, one of the largest in the state, for infrastructure in the waterfront – sewers and roads, primarily," Mayor Christopher Cabaldon told the News-Ledger. The money was part of California's Proposition 1C bond measure, approved by voters. The city had relied on the grant, fronting some of its own local money towards the infrastructure project, but was close to having to suspend the project. A poor economy had slowed the state's efforts to sell bonds that were authorized by the Prop 1C.

Cabaldon said he and Tina Gontarski of the Housing & Community Investment Department told state officials the money was needed now.

"Tina and I went to meet with the director of housing and redevelopment programs to say, 'hey, we're at a critical point right now,'" said Cabaldon.

With the money now promised, the city has begun awarding contracts for major work.

The "Bridges" district (formerly known as the "Triangle") is an old industrial area bordered by the Sacramento River, the US 50 freeway and Pioneer Bridge, and the approach to the Tower Bridge. It is slated for redevelopment as a high-density urban center. The most prominent project within the Bridges district is being championed by Fulcrum Property Development.

The project envisions up to 2,787 housing units and 3.5 million square feet of commercial development on 50 acres north of US 50.

'Sobriety checkpoint': no DUI arrests -- but plenty of trouble with driver's licenses

West Sacramento police conducted a "sobriety checkpoint" last Thursday night.

The checkpoint was set up at Sacramento Avenue at Simon Terrace in the city's northwest, and lasted from about 7 p.m. to 1:30 a.m., reported Lieutenant Tom Bowler. Officers contacted drivers passing through the checkpoint, examining them for signs of intoxication and checking whether they had a valid driver's license.

Some were pulled to the side for further examination.

By the end of the event, eight drivers were determined to be unlicensed, four others had suspended licenses. The unlicensed and suspended drivers were cited. Those with suspended licenses also had their cars towed and impounded for 30 days, as per the law, reported Bowler.

Four drivers received "field sobriety tests," but all were deemed not to be under the influence.

Police spokespeople have told the News-Ledger in past years that these checkpoints are always set up so that drivers have some kind of other road option to use to detour around the checkpoint. Allowing that kind of option helps avoid Constitutional questions of unlawful searches, they said.

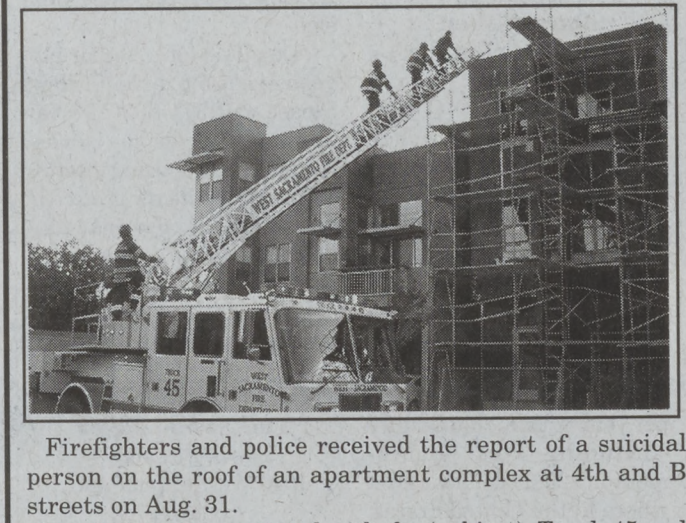
Local 'strike team' still fighting L.A. brush fire

As of yesterday, five West Sacramento Fire Department personnel were still helping to fight the "Station Fire" near Los Angeles. A Yolo County "strike team" including them, as well as firefighters from Davis, Rumsey, Willow Oak and Woodland, began work in Southern California on Aug. 29. The West Sacramento contingent consisted of Acting Battalion Chief Mike Taylor, Captain John Muir, Engineer Bruce Selter and firefighters Ian Gilmour and James Staley.

The firefighters were working 12-hour shifts at the blaze.

Two Los Angeles County firefighters were killed by the flames on Aug. 30. Their vehicle went off the road and the victims were overrun by a fast-moving fire, said a West Sacramento Fire Department press statement.

A W.S.F.D. spokesperson told the News-Ledger yesterday that the local contingent was expected to return last weekend – but winds picked up at the fire site and the fire surged.

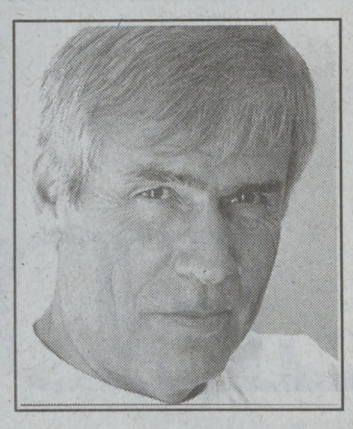


Firefighters and police received the report of a suicidal person on the roof of an apartment complex at 4th and B streets on Aug. 31.

"While WSPD negotiated with the (subject), Truck 45 and Engine 44 laddered the roof, and assisted WSPD with apprehending the individual," said a statement from the West Sacramento Fire Department.

A few thoughts on the passing of Labor Day

My Back Pages



By Daryl Fisher

Note: With another Labor Day having just come and gone, and with millions of Americans still unable to find work because of decisions made by greedy men in fancy suits who couldn't have cared less about what made this nation great (decent jobs for hard-working men and women), I would like to re-run a favorite column of mine, written a few Labor Days ago:

Another Labor Day has just come and gone and it seemed like there was hardly a celebration to be found anywhere. That hasn't always been the case, though, especially in the house where I grew up. But first, a little Labor Day history:

Labor Day is a national holiday that is over a hundred years old now and it grew out of a celebration and parade in New York City honoring the working class way back in the 1880's. States like Oregon, Massachusetts and Colorado were the first to declare it a state holiday, and then in 1894, Congress passed a law which finally recognized Labor Day as an official national holiday, to be celebrated on the first Monday of every September.

Now a little family history:

My father spent 39 years of his life working as an electrician for the Southern Pacific Railroad. He got up every morning at the crack of dawn, shaved, put on his work clothes, ate his breakfast, grabbed the lunch pail my mother had prepared for him the night before, and off to "the shops" he went. He liked to get there a little earlier than the rest of the close-knit gang he worked with so that a fresh pot of coffee would be perking when everyone began arriving for the morning shift. Going home time was at 3:30 in the afternoon and he would usually pull up in front of our house just after I had arrived home from school. He never complained of being tired when his work day was over, but he often looked that way. He would just quietly deposit his empty lunch pail where he always left it and then shuffle off to the bathroom to wash off all the dirt and grease that had been left on his hands from his hard day's work. The routine of his work-week never varied, and missing a day's work was something he only did if he was sick as a dog.

In my father's day, a job was a big deal. He had grown up during the Great Depression and had seen up close and personal how harsh life can be without meaningful work to do. He hadn't finished high school and when he returned from World War II, there were not enough jobs to go around for all the returning soldiers with a good education, much less those without one. So the bloated labor market of the late 1940s was an employer's dream, and a potential nightmare for men like my father. He wanted to start a family and return his life to normal as soon as possible, but to do that, he needed a job. More specifically, he needed a decent paying job. Not a job with a particularly big paycheck – just one that would allow him to pay the mortgage on a little two-bedroom tract house he had his eyes on in West Sacramento, and support the family he was eager to start.

Once my father found that job, he was determined to keep it, and to do that, he soon learned that he needed to be a "union man", and for 39 years, his union stood by him and made it possible for his paycheck to go up a little bit every now and then – at least enough to give him the security and dignity deserved by all hard-working men and women. In time, he would even become an officer of his union, and Labor Day was always more to my father than just a time for picnics, and barbecues, and maybe a little weekend stay at a campground with his family.

The history of the labor movement in this country is a long and complicated story, going all the way back to a time when organizing a union could be a life and death struggle. Today, thankfully there are no longer company-hired, club-waving thugs to break up union activities, but the struggle for decent wages, hours and working conditions still goes on. A recent case-in-point was the corporate insensitivity shown to workers being laid off by Northwest Airlines, who were given a booklet offering "101 Ways to Save Money", which included suggestions like "Don't be shy about pulling something you like out of the trash"; "Ask your doctor for sample prescriptions"; "Take shorter showers"; and "Try to get hand-me-down clothes and toys for your kids from friends and relatives." Although Northwest later apologized and stopped including the booklet in its layoff packets, the incident serves as a good reminder that the struggle for dignity and fair compensation in the workplace is a never-ending one.

I am always amazed at how the politicians in this great country of ours prioritize things.

Thankfully there are no longer company-hired, club-waving thugs to break up union activities, but the struggle for decent wages, hours and working conditions still goes on.

For instance, they have no problem whatsoever throwing away billions of dollars (over $800 billion and still counting the last time I looked) on a war in Iraq that never had anything at all to do with our own national security, yet they have to be dragged kicking and screaming to do such labor-related things as increase the minimum wage, or keep good-paying jobs from going overseas, or enact tough laws to increase employee safety in the workplace, or pay for enough government lawyers and prosecutors to root out the corporate corruption that has led to the loss of so many jobs over the years, or set aside enough money to properly back up hard-earned worker pension funds which seem to be going in the toilet almost daily.

Although many of our politicians would have us believe that al-Qaeda or a nuclear Iran or any number of other external threats should be our country's greatest concern, if my father were still alive, I'm sure he would question putting so many of our eggs in that basket. He would say instead that America is (and always has been) only as strong and secure as its labor force and its work ethic makes it, and that our eye should never be taken off that ball. After all, he was part of a generation that stomped out Hitler, Mussolini and Tojo, and to my knowledge, the only thing he ever feared in his life was losing his job.

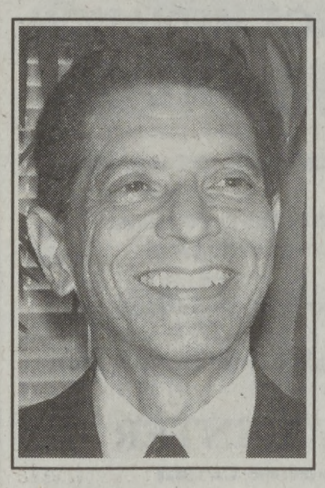
SPORTS INSIDER



By Richard Novoa

I just love this time of the year in sports, especially with the NFL teams just about ready to knock heads, the College football season already heading into its second week, and the Major League Baseball pennant races heating up, as they enter the final month of the season.

The NFL will kick off the 2009 season with a Thursday night special, featuring the Super Bowl Champion Pittsburgh Steelers hosting the Tennessee Titans on prime time (NBC-5 p.m.) television.

The 49ers, who enjoyed a pretty good preseason, will be traveling to Arizona on Sunday, September 13th (1:15 p.m. - FOX) while the Oakland Raiders, prepare to host the San Diego Chargers in the second game (7:15 p.m.) of a NFL Monday night (Sept.14th) double header.

What's up with our local college teams? Sacramento State traveled to Las Vegas for a 38 to 3 whipping and UCD drove down Hwy 99 to Fresno for an embarrassing 51-0 spanking!

I hear the Aggies received $250,000 for their troubles and I really hope the Hornets were well compensated for their efforts but come on! I know school budgets are very tight so maybe we can call these games non-conference sponsored fundraising events.

Diamond Notes

The Giants (76-62) are 7-3 in their last 10 games, but the most exciting element of their playoff run is that their bats are starting to come to life. The G-Men currently trail Colorado by two games and the division leading Dodgers by only 5 ½ games with 25 games remaining in the season.

The good news for the Giants is that 16 of their last 25 games will be at AT & T Park which is a huge advantage because they have head-to-head battles lined up with the Rockies and Dodgers. The bad news is the team that usually wins the wild card spot always goes on a wild winning streak in September and the Giants haven't won more than five games in row all year.

There is no secret to winning the National League Divisional title or qualifying for the wild card except winning and the Giants still have six games remaining with Los Angeles and three with Colorado and finish up the season with a three game series in San Diego.

OK, back to the good news for San Francisco fans. Eugenio Velez has played his way into the starting line-up with his foot speed and his defensive gems. Also the Giants welcomed back newly acquired second baseman, Freddie Sanchez, to their new batting order.

The Giants player carrying them on their playoff push is superstar utility infielder Juan Uribe, who is on fire with his timely hitting and is carrying a big bat in the middle of the order. Uribe hit two home runs and a triple and drove in five runs on Monday and has homered in seven of his last 19 games.

As for the Oakland A's (61-76), their season appears to be over trailing the Angels by 20 ½ games and using mostly farm hands to finish out the season.

The A's are on the road this week to Chicago and Minnesota while the Giants entertain the Padres until the Dodger Blues hit town on Friday night for a crucial three game series. Can you say "Beat L.A"?

River Cats Playoffs

Speaking of farm hands, the Sacramento River Cats are playoff bound again and are ready to face the Tacoma Rainers in a best of seven series starting on Wednesday, September 9th. The Gatos finished the season 86-57 to post the third-best record in franchise history.

The match-up will be a rematch of the two teams' 2005 playoff series, which Tacoma won 3-games-to-1 and marks the last playoff series the River Cats lost. This year the Cats won the season series against Tacoma, 9-7. Tacoma finished an improbable comeback in the Pacific Coast League North Division race, rallying from 7.5 games back entering August 22 to clinch a playoff berth.

Playoff games 1 and 2 of the first-round series between Sacramento and Tacoma will be played Wednesday and Thursday in Tacoma, both at 7 p.m. Sacramento will host Games 3 (Friday, 7:05 p.m.), 4 (Saturday, 7:05 p.m.) and 5 (Sunday, 1:05 p.m.) at Raley Field. Ticket prices ranges from $7 to $60 and are available at the Raley Field Box Office or online at www.ticketmaster.com.

NFL Highlights

The Oakland Raiders will kick off their season with a banged up defense that allowed preseason opponents to run up and down the field at will. The Silver and Black made a last minute trade to try and bolster their weak defensive front line by acquiring the Patriots five-time Pro Bowl player, Richard Seymour, for a 2010 first round pick. The Raiders also released 39-year-old quarterback Jeff Garcia and are going with Charlie Frye and Bruce Gradkowski as backups for JaMarcus Russell.

The 49ers are set to go with Shawn Hill, Alex Smith and the 171st pick in the 2009 draft, Nate Davis, at the quarterback spots. I really like this kid, Nate Davis; he has the strongest throwing arm I have ever seen in a 49ers uniform. The Niners also made a significant player acquisition by signing offensive tackle, Tony Pashos, to protect the most sack bunch of quarterbacks last season.

Aztec's Picks

My dog "Aztec" is warmed up for the 2009 NFL football season, having picked 3 of 5 last week with his college picks against the spread. This season Aztec will give his "College Lick of the Week" and 3 NFL picks along, with his Monday night special pick.

This week's "College Lick of the Week" is the Fighting Irish (-5 ½) defeating Michigan in their home opener at South Bend.

Aztec will start the first week of the NFL by taking the defending champion Steelers (-5) to whip the Titans on Thursday night followed by the Texans (-4 ½) over the Jets and the Saints (-13) will march all over the Lions in New Orleans on Sunday.

On Monday night, the San Diego Chargers (-9) will start the Oakland Raiders 2009 season with a first loss, of what could possibly be the start of another Black and Blue season!

Between the Ropes

Speaking of black and Blue, boxing is scheduled at the Red Lion Inn on Saturday, September 12th (4 p.m.) featuring Matt Godfrey against Sacramento Cruiserweight Mike Simms for the N.A.B.F Title. Tickets start at $30 for this six bout All-Star card that will also feature local fighters Stan Martyniouk, Geraldo Lopez and Max Becerra.

Enjoy your day – see ya next week

FRIDAY NIGHT LIGHTS

The new River City High School campus has been in use since January, and the school has played host to all kinds of sports. It has even been thrown on, run on,blocked on and tackled on by the River City Gators semi-pro football team, seen in action above at the new high school field.

But the new field and stadium haven't yet hosted a genuine high school football game.

That will change this Friday, when the River City High School Raiders host the San Juan Broncos for the first time at the new home field.

Junior varsity kickoff is at 5:30 p.m., and varsity play starts at 7:30.

The school is located at 1 Raider Lane, along Jefferson Boulevard just south of the Nugget shopping center and just opposite Higgins Road.

Homework help

From the County of Yolo

Thanks to a grant from the Institute of Museum and Library Services, the Arthur F. Turner Community Library in West Sacramento will offer free, on-site, after school homework assistance services to students, grades 3 through 8, beginning October 13. The goal of the Homework Help Center is to provide an appropriate learning environment with caring volunteers to assist children in attaining basic skills in reading and arithmetic, and completion of homework assignments.

Through the Homework Help Center, volunteer tutors from the Yolo County area will help students build confidence in their academic abilities and improve their grades. Students in the West Sacramento area can receive free homework help every Tuesday and Thursday, 3:00 to 6:00 p.m., beginning October 13.

Those interested in registering a child for the Homework Help program, or volunteering to be a tutor, should visit the Arthur F. Turner Community Library (currently located at 840 Jefferson Boulevard in West Sacramento) or call (916) 375-6465. Note: the Arthur F. Turner Community Library will close the temporary Jefferson Boulevard location on September 26 to move to its new building located at 1212 Merkley Avenue. Stop by the Homework Help Center's table at the grand opening of the new Arthur F. Turner Community Library on October 10 at 11:00 a.m. More information will be available later.

GUEST COMMENTARY

The value of grandparents

From First 5 Yolo

A grandparent's love and support has a positive impact on children, particularly in the early years of a child's life. According to the Foundation for Grandparenting, when kids develop a strong bond with their grandparents, they feel more stable and even do better in school. Researchers also have found relationships between older and younger generations have long-term benefits for both grandparents and grandchildren.

"I know that a grandparent's wisdom, experiences and life perspectives can play an important role in the lives of young children," said Helen Thomson, Chair of the First 5 Yolo Children and Families Commission, and a grandmother of three grandchildren. "First 5 Yolo celebrates and honors the strong bond between grandparents and their grandchildren."

There are at least 56 million grandparents in the U.S. where more than 4.5 million children live with their grandparents according to the U.S. Census Bureau. In honor of National Grandparents Day on September 13, First 5 Yolo offers the following helpful tips on how grandparents can support their grandchildren in their early years.

PASS ON TRADITIONS

Sharing stories helps develop a child's mental, verbal and communication skills.

- Share family stories with grandchildren. Remember, children love to hear what their parents were like as kids!
- Provide kids with wisdom and guidance – grandma and grandpa can be great role models.
- Describe the "good old days" in ways that help kids understand their own life and the world around them.

MOVE, GROOVE AND EAT RIGHT

Healthy eating and exercise are important. A grandparent can help a child develop a healthy lifestyle even at a very young age.

- Keep physically fit together – indoors and outdoors – by stretching, playing hide-and-go-seek, dancing or walking around the neighborhood. A trip to the nearest playground is always fun!
- Limit a child's time with television, the computer and videogames and encourage a more active lifestyle.
- Pass the peas – or oranges, apples and broccoli! Help your grandchildren develop healthy eating habits by encouraging them to eat at least five servings of fruits and vegetables every day.

CREATE TEACHABLE MOMENTS

Reading to children and playing creative games at an early age help prepare them for success in school.

- Play games like "peek-a-boo" when they are babies and word games when they are in preschool. Games help kids learn colors, shapes, numbers and letters in a fun way.
- Read rhymes and stories or sing songs together. Choose books that encourage kids to touch and point to pictures.
- Show kids how to play well with others. Teach cooperation and sharing by taking turns and working together to finish a project, solve a puzzle or put away toys.

About First 5 Yolo

Research shows a child's brain develops most dramatically in the first five years and what parents and caregivers do during these years to support their child's growth will have a lifelong impact. In 1998, California voters passed a statewide ballot initiative to add a 50-cent-per-pack tax on cigarettes. The funds are utilized to fund education, health and childcare programs that promote early childhood development from prenatal through age 5. The "Police Log" is taken from preliminary police documents. The facts have not been verified through investigation or trial.

Sept. 1

A woman on Sacramento Avenue reported that someone had used her lost ATM card to make several fraudulent transactions.

Sept. 1

A shipping company on Shore Street reported that an employee had opened a package, stolen two cell phones from it, and sold them on the Craigslist internet site.

Sept. 1

A business on the 1500-block of South River Road reported that someone had burglarized a bus, stealing a computer and monitor.

Sept. 1, 3 p.m.

A man reported that someone stole his mountain bike from his workplace on Freeboard Street.

Sept. 1, 3:38 p.m.

Police arrived at the Southport Town Center shopping center after receiving a report of a shoplifting incident in progress. An officer saw a 27-year old Taber Street man exiting a store and detained him. In the man's vehicle was seen a Polaroid camera – one of the items reported stolen. After receiving his "Miranda" caution, the suspect admitted the theft.

Sept. 1, 4:43 p.m.

An officer contacted a 55-year old man on Third Street, who was seen drinking a "tall" beer out of a paper bag. The man was cited and released, and the remaining beer was poured out.

Sept. 1, 5:40 p.m.

A Rubicon Way man reported that someone had used a pool stick to break out the tail light and driver's side window of a parked car.

Sept. 1, 7:52 p.m.

A 41-year old Southport man said he was bitten by a dog as he jogged past the 2900-block of Linden Road. The man received only superficial lacerations.

Sept. 2

A 19-year old man reported his trumpet stolen from a car parked on Hobson Avenue. The car had a passenger-side window that was broken and wouldn't roll up.

Sept. 2, 4:20 p.m.

A 30-year old resident of Todhunter Avenue said someone had opened an account for a residential phone line in her name. Now, a collection company was calling her, demanding payment on the account.

Sept. 2, 6:58 p.m.

A 37-year old West Capitol Avenue man reported being attacked and robbed by two suspects near Sacramento Avenue and Jefferson Blvd. One of the man had a knife. They "removed the victim's wallet by force," getting away with about $300.

Sept. 3

On Laurel Lane, a man reported that someone had stolen a valuable 6-month old dog. The dog had been on a leash and collar, but the collar was left behind. The dog was a purebred "Pug," worth $1200.

Sept. 3, 3:15 a.m.

A 55-year old Roseville man said a suspect broke into his vehicle in West Sacramento, stealing several items. The victim reported chasing the suspect in his vehicle and knocking the suspect off his bike.

Sept. 3, 3:50 p.m.

A vehicle on Madrone Avenue was reported burglarized. The suspect forced entry through a front side window and stole an in-dash DVD player from the '87 Subaru.

Sept. 8:30 p.m.

A man on Renee Court reported a "suspicious" fire at his location.

Sept. 4

A vehicle was reported burglarized on Marigold Street. Stereo equipment was taken.

Sept. 4, 9 a.m.

A 33-year old woman reported that a male suspect had burglarized her residence on Maple Street, stealing a laptop computer and rummaging through other belongings.

Sept. 4, 1 p.m

A 57-year old man on Hoopa Road said someone broke into his vehicle and stole an in-dash CD/DVD player, two turntables and several tools.

Sept. 4, 3:41 p.m.

A 38-year old Davis man was detained for shoplifting at a Riverpoint Court store in West Sacramento.

Sept. 4, 7:52 p.m.

A Riverpoint Court retailer reported having a 26-year old Sacramento woman in custody for shoplifting.

Sept. 6, 11:18 p.m.

A store at the corner of West Capitol and Jefferson reported that a suspect had earlier entered the establishment, checked the store room, grabbed a hammer and screwdriver from a rack, and returned to the store room to use the tools to steal three laptop computers. The man may have had an accomplice.

Sept. 7, 6:04 p.m.

An officer stopped a 47-year old Andrew Street man who was riding a bike on Hobson Avenue, for a vehicle code violation. The man threw away a baggie found to contain marijuana. He then admitted "I have dope in my left sock," and methamphetamine was found stashed there. The man was arrested.

Message from the 'Children's Alliance': used items needed for kids of Yolo Co.

A message from Katie Villegas of the Yolo County Children's Alliance (YCCA):

As many of you know, we are in our second year of the Step by Step/Paso a Paso Home Visiting Program - a program that focuses on pregnant and new Moms to give them the support they need to raise successful, happy, healthy children. We have discovered (especially in these times of economic crisis) that many of our families are in need of basic necessities - we decided to make a list of the items we need the most and ask our friends and family if they could help us collect these items - they do not have to be new, we gladly accept used items - please contact our office at 530-757-5558 if you have questions - we are located at 600 A Street, Ste Y in Davis, CA. Thank you so much in advance for your support!!

THE YOLO INDEPENDENT — FRIDAY, MAY 16, 1919.

PUBLIC RECEPTION AND GENEROUS WELCOME FOR RETURNING HEROES

Washington's new public school building will be taxed to its capacity to-night to accommodate the people who are expected to assemble to welcome home some of the soldier and sailor boys who have already returned from the front.

Elaborate preparations are being made for the event and the building is being decorated by the ladies of the town in a manner never known before.

The National colors will prevail of course, but in addition there will be flowers to strew at the feet of the conquerors like there was in Rome when Caesar's armies returned from fresh victories.

En passant it might be remarked that Washington's challenge has never been taken up.

That challenge is:

No town in the United States of similar population supplied a greater number of men to fight the battles of the nation than did Washington.

Seventy stalwarts was the quota sent by Washington to do battle for Democracy and that does not include twenty-one more from Riverbank who enlisted here.

The program for to-night's welcome is mostly informal and will be under the direction of Prof. Case.

Superior Judge W. A. Anderson of Yolo County will be the Orator of the Evening.

Following the reception refreshments will first be served the honored guests and subsequently to every one present.

The scheme of treating the boys in this way originated in the Red Cross Chapter, and spread like lightning.

The committee of the Red Cross in charge of the affair consists of Mrs. S. T. Richard, Mrs. W. A. Parkinson and A. M. Cameron.

Participating now with the Red Cross two other organizations are working for the success of the welcome, namely the Washington Improvement Club and the Parent-Teacher Association.

An interesting recital of actual combat in the blood-reddened fields of France and Belgium is expected from Davis Barry who has just been honorably discharged.

He, of all the boys, saw most action and yet returned unscathed.

Besides him the following are expected to be present and have been invited:

W. Williams, Frank Hoffman, Ray Fredericks, H. Sousa, Ward Pagnello, Reese Peek, Leland Peek, Willard Pankost, Chas. Ramsey, Wm. T. Smith, Irving Cunningham, Carl Casselman, Tony Silva, E. Curry, Roy Harlow, Merle Richeson, Russel Craise, D. Fenocchea, Clarence Harms, Chas. McClure, Geo. T. Newton, E. Van Olinda, F. C. White, Jr., N. L. White, D. Orrecchea.

From Riverbank.

Tom Collins, E. C. White, Walter Gallup, H. Gallup.

A MILLION DOLLAR BOND ISSUE FOR ROADS IS PROPOSED FOR YOLO COUNTY

Woodland, May 14.—The Yolo County Board of Supervisors at an adjourned meeting held in the Courthouse this morning went on record as favoring a $1,000,000 county bonding election at the earliest date possible for the purpose of constructing a system of permanent county highway laterals to open up every section of the county, and at the same time connect with the great trunk lines serving as main arteries into the very heart of every center of population, manufacture, farm and orchard and scenic wonder in the State of California.

The appeal from the rural district for action immediately is so spontaneous that the board at the hour of adjournment to-day decided to meet again next Wednesday in special session to take first steps toward the consummation of a plan which has been on the mind of every progressive farmer, orchardist and Yolo County business man for months back. The Supervisors agree with the rural districts that it is the first big step toward making Yolo County the banner county of the Sacramento Valley.

So urgent is the request for action from town and country that it was hoped to call a special election here incident with the election of July 1, when the State will vote on a $10,000,000 State highway bonding proposition. It was discovered, however, by District Attorney C. C. McDonald, that a county and State election on special issues could not be consolidated.

Some of the varied farming interests are so anxious for immediate action that it was urged that special tax or some other means be adopted to rush the work along, but it was deemed best to resort to bonding as the most expedient, speedy and generally satisfactory.

It is believed that more than 100 miles of concrete road will be necessary to properly open up the county, particularly the west side, rich in lands and energy, but lacking in means of transportation and quick access to the centers of trade and quick transportation.—Democrat.

Advices from Paris convey the information that President Wilson will be back in the United States about June 17th.

We have been promising ourselves that he would be in during his absence.

Let us hope for the best.

"Sawing wood and saying nothing," is the way the Kaiser is reported to be passing time.

But he might have something in his sleeve, like those people who usually are accredited with doing likewise.

At the home of Martin McDonough last Saturday a quiet celebration took place commemorating the fortieth anniversary of completion of the home. Under Sheriff Bob Woods came from Woodland for the celebration and with several near relatives enjoyed the splendid hospitality of his mother. Mrs. McDonough has been a resident of Washington for 43 years.

At the meeting of the Washington Improvement Club next Tuesday evening a report will be made by the committee which was named to interview C. W. McKillip relative to the petitions for a gas supply for the town. As nearly all residents and property owners are interested it is expected that a great crowd will be present. Anyone interested will be welcomed by the club.

Last Saturday evening a "Welcome Home" party was given Serg. William T. Smith at his home, 222 Harriet street, by a number of his friends. Sergeant Smith has just returned from many months service over seas, where he saw service with both the English and French armies, but a member of the American forces. He brought with him several trophies of the great war, including a German regulation 1916 model army rifle and a German gas mask, which he picked up on the battle field of the Somme.

The greater part of the evening was given over to listening to eSrgt. Smith tell of his adventures overseas. Dancing and cards followed, after which refreshments were served.

Those present were: Sergeant and Mrs. William T. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. McClure, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Parkinson, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Woods, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. McClure, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. WHARF SPACE MUST BE HELD ON WASHINGTON FRONT

The constant and uninterrupted demand for more wharf space in Sacramento should serve as a warning to the people of Washington.

Within a few years the entire waterfront of Sacramento was taken up and before long waterfront facilities must find another location.

It is only natural that the Yolo bank of the river will then be at a premium.

This is conceded by everybody who has lived in Sacramento for the past twenty years.

Twenty years ago there was not a wharf on the Sacramento side of the river, nor was there a warehouse nor a shelter of any kind where boats and barges could unload.

In fact, great loads of merchandise were hauled up out of boats on an inclined gang plank through the aid of a donkey engine located at Front and K streets.

And today the entire waterfront of Sacramento, at least that portion of the river front convenient to the city, is entirely covered with wharves.

More shipping and more industries that are at hand will demand accommodations.

It is only on the Yolo side of the river that these accommodations can be secured.

At this writing only one street in Washington runs to the waterfront. The rest is private property.

Before that property becomes too valuable provision should be made by the Yolo County authorities or the townspeople of Washington to secure space on the waterfront so that future shipping facilities may be available when Sacramento's entire waterfront is taken up.

Simonds, one of the noted correspondents at the front, said the other day in one of his letters that Great Britain was the only nation that got anything out of the world war.

And Great Britain got all she wanted by eliminating her one real competitor on the seas, Germany, and now has taken all of Germany s colonies.

To kill fleas that were bothering him a Lodi ranch hand spilled distillate on the floor of the barn where he slept and then touched a match to it.

Just like a preacher who would not be satisfied with one drink of whiskey, but wanted a barrelful.

GROUND BEING BROKEN FOR U. S. FIBRE PRODUCTS CO'S PLANT

CONSTRUCTION OF BUILDINGS EXPECTED TO START THE END OF THIS WEEK OR THE EARLY PART OF NEXT

Seventeen acres of land purchased a few weeks ago by the United States Fibre Products Company from the West Sacramento Company in the immediate vicinity of the other large factories in West Sacramento are now being cleared so that construction of the buildings may be started this week or early next week.

Several acres near the Horst Packing establishment are now fully cleared while several acres near the Reed archard where hay has grown is now being mowed.

This site is immediately off the county road from the rice plant and between the roadway and the Oakland-Antioch Railroad.

Plans for the buildings are complete and bids are being asked of the lumber companies for supplying material.

Day labor will be used alone in the construction of the building, the first of which will be started as soon as the concrete foundation is placed next week.

This building will measure 50x175 feet and will be only a start of the large factory which will eventually demand the services of about 100 employes.

H. S. Wanzer, manager of the corporation, is now in possession of samples of the product to be turned out and for which a steady demand is anticipated.

The product is as nearly as possible waterproof and fireproof.

It is made in several thicknesses, varying between 1-16 of an inch and 3 inches.

As a sample, Mr. Wanber has a large bowl which has been holding water for more than two weeks and still remains dry on the outer side although material is not compressed to less than one-half inch.

Rice straw is the principal ingredient used while rice hulls are intermixed so that the pulp resulting may be close-knit and hardened.

The material is also impervious to heat and will be used in the manufacture of refrigerators and other goods needing insulating material.

It is extremely light also, making it desirable for movable articles.

Great machinery will be needed in the plant for compressing the pulp. This has already been ordered and is on the way.

Farmers throughout the State who are raising rice will find a ready market for their rice straw in this factory and have a source of revenue for material that previously was absolute waste.

The process of manufacture has been patented by two of the owners of the factory.

There seems no doubt that the material produced will replace much of the wall-board and insulating material that has up to this time been in demand throughout the State.

OPINION

News-Ledger Editorial:

The drama behind Broderick's namesake

The very best of luck to River City High School, its athletic booster club, its football team and its sports program.

This Friday will be the first time the football team plays a game at the new field on the new campus. Let's hope that West Sacramento community members find the field inviting enough that they visit a few times during the season.

Those bleachers need to be filled up with home fans having a good time during every Friday night home game.

A thoughtful reader drew our attention to an article in the San Francisco Chronicle on Monday called "150th anniversary of duel haunts California."

The article describes about the duel that killed Senator David C. Broderick near San Francisco on Sept. 13, 1859 (this Sunday marks the 150th anniversary of that duel). Broderick was killed by a political enemy who was then the chief justice of the California Supreme Court.

The town of "Broderick" along West Sacramento's northern riverbank was named after him. The town, of course, is now a neighborhood within this city.

Depending on who you talked to at the time, Broderick was either an honest civil servant or a corrupt political operator. Either way, he was a very powerful and colorful man.

The duel resulted after Broderick and Judge David Terry exchanged insults. Broderick had called Terry "a damned miserable wretch" and Terry demanded the "satisfaction usual among gentlemen."

In a glade near Lake Merced, the two faced off with .58 caliber pistols at ten paces. The pistols were set on a "hair trigger," and Terry had reportedly practiced using them. When a referee called on them to raise their weapons and fire, Broderick's gun went off prematurely, sending his bullet into the dirt. Terry took aim and fired, striking Broderick in the chest. The wound at first didn't seem mortal, but Broderick's lung had been struck, and he died three days later in a house (said by some to still be haunted by him) at Fort Mason, San Francisco.

There's no particularly close connection between Broderick the man and Broderick the town. But Senator Broderick was both colorful and controversial, and in those ways, his name seems an apt choice for the township.

GO FIGURE! by Linda Thistle

PICKS OF THE WEEK

"30 Rock: Season Three" — "30 Rock" started out as one of those shows that virtually no one watched (think "The Wire," "Rescue Me," "Manimal") yet every critic in the country gushed over. So naturally I avoided it, because critics are big dumb doody-heads and they're not the boss of me. But my undying love for Tina Fey (and subsequent restraining order — THANKS A LOT, L.A. County District Court!) could not keep me away. So I began watching the show's third season.

And you know what? "30 Rock." Is. Awesome.

Not only is it the best biting satire of show business ever, "30 Rock" rocks the meta-humor and pop-culture refs harder than "South Park," "The Simpsons" and "Family Guy" ever have — or will.

But don't take my word for it. NetFlix or Hulu any episode from any season. Trust me, you'll be "lizzing" within 10 minutes.

"Wallace & Gromit: The Complete Collection" — This four-disc boxed set contains all the "Wallace & Gromit" animated short films: "A Grand Day Out," "The Wrong Trousers," "A Close Shave" and the brand-new "A Matter of Loaf and Death," wherein our heroes (the hapless inventor Wallace and his thankfully much smarter dog Gromit) go into the bread-baking business, with hilarious results. If you already own the previously released boxed set of the first three films, don't despair. You don't need to buy this one just to get "A Matter of Loaf and Death," because it's also being released this week as its own stand-alone disc.

"Zombies of the Stratosphere" — Released in 1952, this is the third and final Republic serial in the Rocketman/Commando Cody series. The plot centers around a plan by the Martians (whose planet is dying) to blast the Earth out of its orbit in order to move Mars into its place. As serials go, this one is pretty good, but the real reason I'm mentioning this particular one is because "Zombies of the Stratosphere" marks the film debut of Leonard Nimoy, who has a small part as Narab, one of the zombie Martians.

Italian Sausage and Potatoes

The dynamic duo of pork sausage and peppers gets even heartier when earthy red potatoes are added. To cut out some of the fat, try this dish with turkey sausage instead.

- 1 pound sweet and/or hot Italian sausage, cut crosswise into thirds
- 1 pound small red potatoes, each cut in half
- 1 large (about 1 pound) onion, cut into 12 wedges
- 2 red and/or yellow peppers, cut lengthwise into 8 pieces

Home Boy
By H.M. Naqvi
(Random House, $23)
Reviewed by Katy B. Olson

The days that follow Sept. 11, 2001, are wrought with desperation and chaos for 20-year-old Pakistani Chuck and his bon vivant friends AC and Jimbo. Once regarded as equals — well-educated, hip and thrill-seeking twentysomethings who befriended musicians, models and the intellectual elite at the city's in-vogue underground bars — the friends are rattled by the changing attitudes of their once-friendly, now-suspicious acquaintances.

Upon learning that the Shaman, a wealthy compatriot known for his lavish Gatsby-esque parties and successful pursuit of the American dream, has gone missing in the wake of the attacks, Chuck and his friends begin on a quest to find him and, along the way, to prove reasonable their faith in the American dream.

Author H.M. Naqvi's characters ring with truth and sadness. "Home Boy" gives voice to a group not often heard from in post-9/11 dialogue: young, educated immigrants who felt truly a part of the city's melting pot. Though Chuck and his friends each arrive in New York via different paths, their lives and their relationships are intertwined, making the place a home.

"That's how things worked in the city: You met somebody, then somebody introduced you to somebody else, and then they would become part of your story," notes Chuck. Yet New York's history and standing as a home for all people is tested by that September's uncertainty, fear and prejudice.

Barreling across the page like a yellow cab careening through a stoplight-less New York City night, H.M. Naqvi's "Home Boy" is many things: a thoughtful, modern meditation on racial relations in the wake of terrorism, a passionate and temperamental love letter to the isle of Manhattan and the nation of America, and a fictional memoir with the full heart, acerbic wit and raucous dialogue of real life in a changed world.

Fall in Love With Brussels Sprouts

My daughter, Deanna, has always had an unusual love for Brussels sprouts. Brussels sprouts also were very popular during the 16th century in the southern Netherlands and Northern Europe. They may have been grown in Belgium as early as 1200, and are named for Brussels, the country's capital.

These tiny members of the cabbage and mustard family also have cancer-fighting phytochemicals, are high in vitamin C and are a good source of folate, vitamin A and potassium. Since Brussels sprouts are so good for you, why do so many people despise them?

In a poll taken last year by the foodie Web site Slashfood.com, more than 78,000 readers weighed in on the foods they hate. Brussels sprouts finished No. 8 on the list of most hated foods. The comments section overflowed with horror stories about being forced to eat the vegetable as a child.

One thing I noticed about the readers' comments was that they ate Brussels sprouts that were muddy colored, overcooked and smelled bad. When Brussels sprouts are properly selected, stored and cooked, they have a bright color, a crisp texture and a delicious flavor. When selecting the vegetable, look for small, young, vibrant green, tightly compacted sprouts.

Brussels sprouts are delicious boiled or steamed until tender but still slightly crisp, or roasted to bring out their natural sugars. Use sprouts that are all about the same size to ensure they will cook quickly and evenly. As a rule, Brussels sprouts cook in about 6 to 7 minutes. Be careful not to overcook Brussels sprouts because they will release sinigrin, a natural gas with a sulfur-like smell.

This recipe for Hashed Brussels Sprouts is flavorful and delicious. The quick cooking time and the addition of the garlic, onion and mustard complement the sprouts and showcase its flavors in a unique way. Try it and you're sure to become a Brussels sprouts lover, too!

HASHED BRUSSELS SPROUTS

- 1 tablespoon freshly squeezed lemon juice, plus 1 tablespoon grated lemon zest
- 1 pound Brussels sprouts
- 1 tablespoon olive oil
- 2 tablespoons butter

Bing stock photo

- 1/2 medium purple onion, minced
- 1 garlic clove, minced
- 1 tablespoon Italian seasoning
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon pepper
- 2 tablespoons vegetable broth or low-sodium chicken broth
- 1 teaspoon Dijon mustard
- 1/2 teaspoon honey or sugar

1. Using a large bowl, pour in the lemon juice. Cut bottoms off the sprouts, and discard. Halve sprouts lengthwise. Thinly slice sprouts, cutting around and discarding the firm core. Immediately toss sprout slices with lemon juice to separate leaves and retain color.
2. Heat oil and butter over high heat in a skillet large enough to hold all the sprouts. When oil mixture is hot, but not smoking, add the sprouts, onion, garlic, Italian seasoning and salt and pepper. Cook until sprouts begin to wilt, but leaves are still green and crisp, about 3 to 4 minutes. Some of the leaves might brown slightly.
3. Move the sprouts to one side of the pan and mix broth, mustard and honey or sugar together in the pan. Combine mixture with the sprouts and cook, stirring, 2 minutes more. Turn off heat, and stir in lemon zest, reserving a little to sprinkle on top of the dish. Transfer to serving bowl, sprinkle with remaining zest and serve. Serves 4.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF Tatiana Nikolaivna Venglinsky, also known as Tanya Venglinsky, and as Tanya N. Venglinsky, Decedent
CASE NUMBER PB09-150

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of TATIANA NIKOLAIVNA VENGLINSKY, also known as TANYA VENGLINSKY, and as TANYA N. VENGLINSKY:

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by LENA VENGLINSKY CARD in the Superior Court of California, County of Yolo.

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that LENA VENGLINSKY CARD be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held in this court as follows: September 17, 2009, at 9:00 a.m., in Dept. 15, 1100 Main Street, Suite 300, Woodland, CA 95695.

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the deceased, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within four months from the date of first issuance of letters as provided in Probate Code section 9100. The time for filing claims will not expire before four months from the hearing date noticed above.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a "Request for Special Notice" (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A "Request for Special Notice" form is available from the court clerk.
